GHI Annual Meeting Lectures Election

Nine positions of the Greenbelt Homes Inc. board of directors are to be filled at the election to be held at the annual meeting of the corporation, Wednesday, March 26, at the Greenbelt Community Building, at 8:15 p.m. This may be the last occasion at which such a complete election can be held for a by-law amendment providing for two-year, staggered terms is to be voted on at this meeting. This by-law amendment, if passed, would assure continuity on the board in that no more than four or five directors (on even or odd years, respectively) could be replaced. Passage of this amendment would assure a greater contest for the available position, it is believed.

The problem of the possible lack of quorum faces the organization so that the board has authorized the distribution of flyers and the use of a sound truck to remind members of their obligation to be present.

Proxies

Proxies count toward a quorum and such a proxy (no specific form required) - assigning your family vote to another member-family (to be present but not already voting someone else's proxy) must be in the hands of the secretary of G.H.I. not later than midnight, Friday, March 21. Deliver to Bruce Bowman, 14-Z-3 Laurel Hill or place in the doorway mail slot.

Aside from the election of directors, audit committee members, and a nomination and election committee, there will be the annual report of the corporation, and an opportunity to have questions answered or new business introduced.

County PTA Council Discusses School Board

Plans for full discussion by local PTAs of recommendations for selecting the County School Board by non-partisan methods have been made by the executive board of the Prince Georges County Council of PTAs.

Discussions will be initiated at the regular council meeting at Greenbelt Junior High on March 25. Three additional discussion sessions will be held simultaneously in the northern, central and southern parts of the county on Thursday, March 27 at 8 p.m.

The area meetings will be held at Northwestern Senior High School, Suitland Senior High, and Gwynn Park Junior-Senior High School. All PTAs are urged to have representatives attend one of these three meetings.

The recommendations are the result of a 16-month study by a special study group of the County Council. No formal action will be taken until the Council's April 22 meeting.

The study group's official report has been accepted by the executive committee and released in full print to every PTA in the county.

The report recommends that members of the Prince Georges County Board of Education be appointed without regard to political party affiliation and urges the County Council to assume the leadership in obtaining more widespread citizen participation in the process. The report did not favor a change at this time to an elective system.

If the report is accepted by the Council body in April a plan of action will be mapped out to hold a county-wide caucus of PTA groups and civic organizations to select qualified candidates for appointment to the School Board by the Governor.

Local Authors Honored

Opening National Library week on Sunday was a "Meet the Author Tea" sponsored by the Prince Georges County Library. Among the many county authors honored, were Greenbelters Mrs. Charlotte Smith, Albert Herling, and Rexford Tugwell. The tea was one of the many activities planned during this special week.

"Hansel and Gretel" Pleases Hundreds

By Rachel Algaze

Neither snow nor slush could keep away the hundreds of parents, grandparents, relatives and friends who turned out on Thursday evening, March 13, to see the Center School production of "Hansel and Gretel," in which all of the children of the 4th, 5th, and 6th grades took part.

The leading roles of the show were capably played by David Hurst as Hansel and Nancy Hurd as Gretel, the latter acting and singing her part in crystal clear tones. As the story unfolded we saw charming peasant children, sandmen, angels, Jacks-in-the-pulpit, dew fairies, witches, and cookie children. All wore colorful costumes which the faculty assisted in the making, as well as the parents. The entire production, under the direction of Mrs. Marian Nelson, was a treat to the audience. Miss Hanah Long, principal, also deserves much credit for her patience and forbearance during preparation of this thrilling presentation.

Other members of the faculty who helped in making the performance a success were Mrs. M. Loftus, in charge of choreography, and Mrs. Reber, the scenery. Sherman Friend proved to be a "friend indeed" for his unstinting and capable assistance in every phase of the production.

In addition to those mentioned above, leading parts were also played by Debbie Wyatt as the mother; Bob Miller as the father; Patty Furiosio as the dew fairy; Billy Devlin as the sandman; Charles Durbin as the Jack-in-the-pulpit; Kenneth MacKenzie and Jeffrey Rosen as the father's friends, and Larry Silvers, Albert Pines and Paul Stover as the cookie children.

JCC Elects Officers

The newly elected officers of the Jewish Community Center of Prince Georges County are Harry Weidberg, President; Sam Schwimer, Vice President (Program); Morris Cohen, Vice President (Operations); Nettie Steinman, Treasurer; Ray Haber, Financial Secretary; Lil Schwimer, Recording Secretary; and Ida Berman, Corresponding Secretary.

Elected to the Board of Trustees were Sam Ackerman, Charles Dones, William Klein, Robert Garin, and Nat Rothstein. They join board members, Morris Steinman, Shirley Levine, Sidney Rubin and Irving Gerring.

Whipp will speak on "Your Child, His Character and His Health."

GHI Prez Burgoon Assures Citizens CCC-WK Contract OK; 13 in Election

By Al Skolnik

Greenbelt residents were assured at last Friday's meeting of the board of directors of Greenbelt Homes, Inc. that the recent agreement negotiated with Continental Construction Company (a subsidiary of Warner-Kanter) will not jeopardize the orderly development of the vacant land in accordance with the Greenbelt Master Plan for Land Use.

GHI president Ed Burgoon stated that any changes desired in the master plan with respect to zoning and park areas will still have to meet the approval of the county commissioners who generally follow the recommendations of the local authorities and the Maryland-National Capitol Park and Planning Commission.

Burgoon stressed that the only major restriction in the old contract with CCC that is being relinquished under the new agreement is the retention of 50 percent of the trees. "And there was always a question of how this provision would be enforced," he added.

All other restrictions in the old contract, he continued, are presently embodied in the master plan which has the support of the city council and the Park and Planning Commission. "It is up to these bodies," he asserted, "to make certain that any suggested changes in the master plan are in keeping with the Greenbelt character." In fact, Burgoon pointed out, the new contract acknowledges that CCC and any of its land-developers will be subject to the decisions of the public agencies that have control over zoning and dedication of park lands and recreation areas.

The discussion was touched off by a letter received from city manager Charles McDonald who relayed the city council's fears that development of the vacant land would not follow the master plan, especially with respect to multiple housing. Under the present master plan, all vacant land in Greenbelt (except for the industrial area) has been zoned for single-family detached homes.

Elections

Thirteen names will appear on the ballot for the 9-man board of directors to be elected on Wednesday and Thursday, March 26 and 27, according to the final report of R. Hal Silvers, chairman of the GHI Nominations and Elections Committee. Four candidates will compete for the 3-man audit committee. Allen D. Morrison, 58-H Crescent, and Charles Cormack, Sr., 6-B Ridge, are the latest candidates to be added to the audit committee list. (Biographies of the candidates appear on page 3 of this issue.)

GHI officials stressed the importance of getting a quorum at the meeting. Ten percent of the membership or about 145 persons is required for a valid election for the conduct of official business.

Unlike city elections, no previous registration is needed for voting. "Your membership in the housing co-op is your ballot," the officials said. "Just present yourself at the Center School auditorium at 8:15 p.m. and you will be issued a voting card which will entitle you to cast a ballot and to vote on any business matters that arise." Each member is entitled to only one ballot.

By-Law Changes

In addition to the election of officials, the membership will consider a proposed by-law change to stagger the terms of the board of directors. If the change is voted on by a two-thirds majority, the four candidates receiving the highest votes next week will be designated for the two-year terms; the remaining 5 will serve a one-year term, to be elected again next year. The audit committee will continue to serve for one year.

Voting at the annual election is by secret ballot, with each member asked to vote for as many choices as there are vacancies. Successful candidates must receive a majority of the votes cast. If there are not enough successful candidates, a run-off election must be held a week later.

In the run-off election, the ballot would consist of those remaining Candidates receiving the highest number of votes in the first election, up to twice as many names as there are positions to be filled. Candidates polling the largest number of votes, whether a majority or a plurality, are declared winners in the run-off election.

The polls will resume opening the morning following the membership meeting at 7 a.m. at Tanner's Cleaners and close at 7 p.m.

Center School PTA

By Rachel Algaze

The March meeting of the Center School PTA had a near record attendance of about 175 persons.
The program began on a cheerful note with the aid of the Glee Club, under the direction of Mrs. Marian Nelson, who led the group in three delightful numbers. The singing was enhanced by the able accompaniment of Mrs. Millie Kern.

Mrs. Emma Bowman, Supervisor of Elementary Education of Prince Georges County Schools, was the featured speaker of the evening, and led the discussion on "Social Studies as Presented in the School."
In brief, social studies deal with people and places and encompass a wide range of subjects such as history, geography, social customs, etc. Mrs. Bowman was able to amplify her talk with the help of visual aids strategically placed around the auditorium. A question and answer period followed.

With regard to current legislative matters, Mrs. Ann Jarvis, Legislative Chairman, urged the membership to support reenactment and extension of the provisions of Public Law 874, which is due to expire June 30, 1958. This law is concerned with Federal aid to our County to meet part of the cost of operation and maintenance of public schools in areas in which the impact of Federal activities is felt, due to increased enrollments. The general public is urged to write our Senators, as follows, expressing their views and requesting extension of the law: Senator J. Glenn Beall, Senate Office Building, Washington 25, D. C., and Senator John Marshall Butler, of the same address.

A plea was also made that interested citizens attend the public hearing of the Prince Georges County budget, to be held on March 21, in the County Service Building, in Hyattsville, Md., at 10 a.m. Delegates are urged to support an adequate school operating budget, as well as a suitable budget for the County Library System.
The buget is due to be adopted on March 31.

A Nominating Committee was elected to present a slate of officers for the coming year. This committee consists of Mrs. Jarvis, Mrs.
T. Tompkins, and Mrs. G. Mac-Intyre.

The chairman of the Publications Committee, Mrs. Sara Thompson, announced that a new Handbook had been prepared by the County Council, together with the Board of Education. This publication deals with county school organization, policies and practices. It contains a great deal of worthwhile information, and is available for 35c from Mrs. Thompson.

BIOGRAPHIES OF CANDIDATES

Percy H. Andros, 2-A Northway. Graduate of the University of Utah, School of Mines and Engineering, class of '38. Employed as a Highway Engineer in the Bureau of Public Roads. Moved to Greenbelt in Feb., 1943, and have lived here since that time. Registered in the District of Columbia as a Professional Civil Engineer. Five children, ranging in ages from 3½ to 16 years. Active in civic organizations, having had the opportunity to serve as President of the North End School PTA, and as President of the Greenbelt Junior High School PTA for 2 years. At present, serving as Vice-president of the High Point High School PTA.

Served one year on the Supervisory Committee of the Department of Commerce Credit Union. Past Vice-President of the Greenbelt Community Band, and former chairman of the Pack Committee, Cub Scout Pack 202. Chairman, Greenbelt Youth Recreation Committee.

Recently appointed to the staff of the George Washington University as Lecturer in Civil Engineering.

Greenbelt Housing Incorporated board member, 1953-54, 1955-56, 1956-57, 1957-58.

Initiated and developed plan whereby GHI members may purchase a nationally advertised make of large electrical appliances for home remodeling at builders' prices.

If elected, I will continue to strive to the best of my ability to help maintain sound business practices, with improvement of services and, if at all feasible, reduction in costs to members.

Ralph ("Bart") Bartholomew, 1-A Southway. Early years spent in Iowa; moved to Washington in 1939 and Greenbelt in 1941. Returned to Middle West in 1947 for a brief period and then moved back to the Washington area, and purchased in Greenbelt when GVHC acquired the properties. After two years with the Manger Hotel chain as a bookkeeper, employed by the Government in 1940 starting with the Supply Department of the Navy Yard.

Currently in charge of Electronic Stores at the Naval Ordnance Laboratory. Knowledge of cost operation and material needs of a large concern should be of considerable value of GVHC. Active in the Community Church and Lions Club. Appointed to GVHC Board in December 1956 to serve the balance of Robert Halpin's term. Having served this partial term, I now appreciate the problems facing the Board, and if elected will sincerely devote my efforts to what I feel are the best interests of the membership and the corporation.

Virginia W. Beauchamp (Mrs. George E. Beauchamp, Jr.), 8-A Crescent rd., GR. 4-6182. Let me begin by admitting to a selfish motive in becoming a candidate for the Board of Directors of Greenbelt Homes, Inc.; as a housewife confined by choice to my home and the care of a young daughter, I have found that part-time volunteer work within the home community offers an ideal opportunity to keep my ties with the adult world that I was once a part of professionally. Greenbelt offers perhaps more such opportunities for participation than most cities—one reason why our family likes this community so well.

At the same time, I hope that, if I am elected, I should be able to make a genuine contribution, both as a woman and as a member, to the functioning of the Board. As my professional record will indicate, I have always gravitated toward work of a public service nature. The major portion of my work experience has been in teaching. I have taught English for four years in secondary schools in the state of Michigan. I have also taught college English on both a full and part time basis at the University of Michigan, at Stephens College (Columbia, Missouri), and at the University of Chicago. Just before the end of World War II I joined the staff of the American National Red Cross as a recreational worker with our Armed Forces, serving for nearly two years in the Philippine Islands and Japan. As a club director during part of this time, I had both administrative and supervisory responsibilities.

I hold A.B. and M.A. degrees, with a major in English, from the University of Michigan and a Ph.D. in English literature from the University of Chicago.

My husband, George E. Beauchamp, Jr., is employed by the International Cooperation Administration. We have a small daughter, Edith, age 2. Another child is expected in the latter part of May.

We have lived in Greenbelt since May, 1957. Since July, I have been a member of the staff of the Greenbelt News Review and am currently serving as president of the Board of Directors of the Greenbelt Publishing Association.

Gerald E. Boisvert, 7-C Crescent. Born in Manchester, New Hampshire on Jan. 29, 1925. Married and father of three children. Have lived in Greenbelt since 1954.

World War II veteran (1942-1946) and the Korean Conflict (1950-1951).

Attended Venard College, Clarks Summit, Pa. (Philosophy); Catholic University and George Washington Universities (Sociology.) At present doing post-graduate work at George Washington University in Education.

Formerly employed by D. C. General Hospital as Charge Nursing Assistant, Psychiatric Department (1947-1957), and presently teaching at High Point High School 12th grade Social Studies.

Bruce Bowman, 14-Z-3 Laurel Hill rd. Resident since December, 1944. Charter member of GMHOC, secretary of GVHC and Greenbelt Development Corporation since inception. Other organizational activities: vice president State PTA, Community Church, Twin Pines Savings & Loan Ass'n., GCS, Rapidan Camp, Potomac Co-operative Federation, Antioch College Alumni. Background: graduate Antioch College, Navy veteran World War II, Defense Department employee.

Platform: Desire to continue active participation in further improvement of Greenbelt through frame house remodeling, additional landscaping, use of available land for additional housing primarily for retired and elderly, continuation of "self help" programs and promotion of cooperative principles in the operation of our mutual housing corporation.

Burgoon, Edward A., 37-K Ridge. Resident since March, 1943, charter member GMHOC, active in GVHC development and progress since being discharged from the U. S. Army in 1945, member of GVHC board 1952, vice president of board 1953 and president of the board since January, 1954. Served on the following committees: membership, sales, personnel, public relations, inventory, electricity, fuel oil physical plant and equipment, legal, taxes, parking, newsletter, and other ad hoc committees.

An Exclusive Right

Not everyone in Greenbelt will be eligible to vote in the election next Wednesday for the Board of Directors of Greenbelt Homes, Inc. Families living on Lakeside or in the Woodway Homes development, renters and apartment dwellers, will be excluded. But in this community, where GHI controls the major share of housing and is the largest single taxpayer, any decisions of its Board can intimately affect the value of the property and the general comfort and security of every citizen of Greenbelt.

Coming to public attention only this month (see March 6 issue of the News Review) was a decision of the GHI Board which had immediate repercussions in the City Council. This was the Board's approval of a revision of their contract with the Warner-Kanter Corporation, which, though it is described as fiscally advantageous to GHI, nevertheless has caused community-wide concern in its agreement to relinquish the restrictions on land development as provided in the original contract. These restrictions—especially adherence to the Greenbelt Master Plan of Land Use and retention of 50 percent of the trees—have in large measure distinguished Greenbelt from the numerous bulldozed and crowded suburbs that lie nearby. Although it is claimed that the zoning plan of the Maryland Park and Planning Commission will insure against over-crowding in Greenbelt, nevertheless, there is due cause for concern among those who have in other localities seen lands originally set aside for parks and recreation gradually whittled away as financial and commercial pressures—and even pressures for public works projects—became too strong for the controlling governmental bodies to resist. In the sense that decisions of such far-reaching consequence can be made by the GHI Board, all residents of Greenbelt have as important a stake in the outcome of the election as have the members.

But in many ways, of course, GHI home-owners have a more personal interest in the quality of the men and women they elect to serve on their Board of Directors. In a dollar and cents way they are directly affected by the competence of those in charge of administering the affairs of the Corporation.

Besides the election, members will find an important issue in the referendum on the proposed change in the by-laws, under which the elected terms of the Board would be increased from one to two years. Although this change would make more difficult the dismissal of a board with whom there might be great dissatisfaction, it would probably in the long run be more beneficial than detrimental; for the change, which provides for the terms of office to be staggered, would insure greater continuity in the Board membership. But a word of warning in this connection. Continuity in Greenbelt, on any board, has usually been a problem in reverse. The question is how to insure a reasonable amount of continuity without encouraging people to latch on to these jobs forever. It may be that unless there is more competition for the board posts the membership may wish some day to place a limit on the number of consecutive terms a board member can serve.

In recent years there has been difficulty in reaching the quorum necessary to conduct the business of the annual meeting. By printing the biographies of the various candidates for the GHI Board and Audit Committee, the Greenbelt News Review attempts to make openly available to the membership as much information as possible on the qualifications of these candidates to uphold the responsibilities of the office involved. But at this point our contribution ends. We cannot bring about the best selection from among the candidates for office. That is the exclusive right and responsibility of the members.

Baptist Church Four Present "Parables"

Four members of the Ruth Sunday School class of the Greenbelt Baptist Church will present "What the Parables Mean to Us Today", during the evening service on Sunday, March 23, at 7 p.m. in the Center School.

Georganne Lammons will introduce Gail Rowland who will tell in her own words the parable of the Good Samaritan. Sharon Kendall will relate the story of the Prodigal Son and Alice Truesdell will present her version of the Parable of the Talents. After each presentation Georganne Lammons will interpret each parable as they apply to daily living.

This presentation was given last Sunday morning during the opening assembly period of the Intermediate department. The response was so favorable that the class of junior and senior high school girls taught by Mrs. Donald Uhlin, were asked to perform before those who attend the evening worship service.

Dr. James T. McCarl will lead the informal hymn singing and Rev. Glenn W. Samuelson, pastor, will preach on the subject, "Breaking Ground."

VOLUNTEER NOTES

By Don Pratt

The Ambulance Club drive of the Greenbelt Volunteer Fire Department & Rescue Squad is midway for the month of March. The drive will end March 31, and by that time it is hoped that our new ambulance will be completely equipped and in service. At present we are having the lettering applied. I am really proud of this new piece which can, in an emergency, carry four patients has an electric blanket, a three-way radio, and a public address system.

The new ambulance has been on public display in the Center since its delivery, and will again be on display at various times during March. After this month it will be permanently stationed at the Fire Station, and anyone interested may inspect this beautiful piece of equipment there.

We expect that this ambulance will be taken to all the nearby parades, contests, and exhibitions held by various Fire Departments and Rescue Squads during the coming summer.

The Ben Franklin Stores of Greenbelt have generously donated space in one of their display windows for a listing of the Courts in Greenbelt that have participated 100% in the Ambulance Club Drive.

Please make out your check now for the Fire Department & Rescue Squad for the penny a day—$3.65 or more for a full year of the finest ambulance service available in the State of Maryland. This entitles a family to first-aid, emergency service or transportation within forty miles of Greenbelt, without any additional charge.

Remember, we have never turned down a call, and do not require that you belong to the Ambulance Club. We do, however, require a certain minimum of equipment to be able to do this work, and the only way we can get this equipment is from your donations. We work without pay of any kind. Our only payment is the satisfaction that we are serving the citizens of Greenbelt, 24 hours a day, and giving them the protection that money cannot buy.

If a person were to knock on my door at three o'clock in the morning and ask what I would charge to take his wife to the hospital in my car, I would certainly make a charge in line with this kind of service. If that same person were to call UNION 4-1122, and the local siren were blown for an emergency, I would answer, along with several other men who were well versed in first aid. There would be no charge for this service. If the person who asked for this service did not belong to the Ambulance Club, there might be a request for a donation for this service. Remember, your neighbors have donated, and it is through their donations that we are able to answer your call.

Have that check ready for our solicitor, ($3.65 or more) when he calls, and be sure that when an emergency occurs, you have the best of manpower and equipment available by a phone call.

The Big Sport

What Paper D'ya Read?

Like I was telling bossman Harry: "Maybe we ought to have some first-hand reporting from the training camps." He looked out the window, made a mental note of "the droghte of Marche" that "perced to the rote," put another log on the heat air conditioning, and said: "See here Geoffrey (that's short for Chaucer). Your round trip ticket to Orlando via Scottsdale will be on your desk the day our circulation hits 200,000. 'Twill be a frosty March in Greenbelt before . . ."

Seriously, if you readers want the training camp scoop, you may have to underwrite the cost of sending a qualified observer (guess who?) South. Just last Wednesday (March 5) we picked up our favorite newspaper and noted the following datelined dispatches from Orlando on the subject of Roy Sievers' first day in camp. In the Washington Post under Bob Adie's signature, we read:

"Sievers didn't terrify any of the pitchers today, but that was natural because he hadn't swung a bat since last October when he went on a short barnstorming trip through Texas. He was hitting late and the few good shots he rapped out went to right field. Roy, of course, is strictly a pull-hitter."

"My timing is a bit off," he (Sievers, that is) confessed, "but that's entirely natural for the first day. I'm going to take my time getting into shape, but I'll be coming around." Manager Cookie Lavagetto confirmed the fact that he would let Sievers get into shape slowly."

In the Washington Star another Orlando dispatch reported this incidental intelligence from Burton Hawkins:

"Ramos signed yesterday and participated in his first workout, as did Sievers. Roy was banging the ball with the same vigor as when the Senators last saw him in September."

"NOTES: Sievers was complimented by Lavagetto for reporting in excellent condition. Roy said handball during the winter had kept him in trim."

A Plugged Nicholson

The very bad luck the Orioles are having with the touted bonus rookies shows no sign of changing. Our Arizona informant reports that young Dave Nicholson is having trouble hitting major league pitching—and the hurlers have hardly dipped into their bag of curves and sliders.

It only proves what wise baseball men say: you can't buy yourself a team of stars with money; not directly, at least. If you spend money, a better investment is to spend $25,000 a year on a good scout than on an untried rookie. Some who may disagree with this will point to the examples of the McDaniel brothers or to Robin Roberts. However, for every bonus boy who made good, a dozen flopped, and the Orioles seem to have most of them.

The example of the fabulous Yankee is a case in point. Scouts like Bill Essick, Joe Devine, Tom Greenwade and the great Paul Krichell, all directed by Ed Barrows until he passed on, now take orders from George Weiss. All have earned big money, and deserved every nickel of it. For the record, Paul Krichell signed Lou Gehrig for $1,500. He filched Charlie Keller right from under the noses of Senator scouts for the paltry price of $4,000. He didn't even reimburse Phil Rizzuto for subway fare from Brooklyn where the latter was turned away from Ebbets Field as being too small. And he invaded the Ivy League to get Red Rolfe from Dartmouth for $6,000.

But this is ancient history. Let's look at the present Yankee roster. Mickey Mantle was picked up for $1,000. Yogi Berra was signed for $500. Whitey Ford got $4,000, and Gil McDougald, who in our book may be the most valuable of all the present day Yankees, said thanks when he got a check for $1,200. Hank Bauer also got around $1,200. Bobby Richardson, whom Stengel is touting as the best second baseman in the league (possibly for trading purposes), got $3,500. And Tony Kubek, the rookie

GOLDEN AGE CLUB

On Wednesday, March 5, in the Social Room at the Center School, 26 members and guests were on hand to celebrate the first birthday of the Golden Age Club. Also celebrated was the birthday of Mrs. Green, who was 90 years young. The Women's Club of Greenbelt donated ice cream, along with a beautiful birthday cake from Mrs. Love and Mrs. McDonald. Mrs. McCamy played the piano to lead the group singing, and later Mrs. McDonald sang "Till Take You Home Again, Kathleen." Special entertainment was also furnished by club members. Mr. Hall and Mrs. Evans both sang.

The Club wishes to extend an invitation to all persons in Greenbelt who are 60 or over to attend the weekly meetings in the Social Room at Center School on Wednesdays at 1.30 p.m. Transportation will be provided coming and going to those who call GR. 3-2011. If you know of anyone who may be interested, call GR. 3-2011 and ask for Warren Leddick.

Within this small restricted zone,

I'm sure that I would find sensation of last year, received the magnificent sum of $5,500.

Now the dispatches sing the praises of a new batch of Yankee rookies who were planted in their farm system over the past years and are now ready to blossom. In dismal contrast, Chattanooga last year played eight well ripened men past 30 years of age who have overstayed their market. In Orlando, barring a miracle, there isn't a single graduate of the Senator's top farm club who has a chance of sticking.

And when those pennants fly over the stadium in the Bronx with monotonous regularity, they call it Yankee luck!

Councilman Smith Sells "Greenbelt Motors"

James Smith, city councilman, disclosed this week he has sold his used car business known as "Greenbelt Motors" to three Washington residents. Smith is now employed as a salesman for a nearby Ford dealer. The new owners will continue using the name "Greenbelt Motors."

A long-time resident and consistent advocate of free enterprise, Smith was one of the few local citizens operating his own business. His experience with his recent venture is said by many to have been invaluable in serving the city as councilman and in other civic organizations. Smith is a former employee of the federal government, now retired. He resides at 19-F Ridge.

Greenbelt Profiles

By Barbara Gilmore

Little known and rarely talked about are the volunteer men who so ably devote their spare time to the rescue of those caught in catastrophic situations. DON PRATT, 17-G Ridge, is just such a man, who in his capacity of Chief of the Greenbelt Rescue Squad sets aside many hours for volunteer work.

You may have seen him about town. He's slightly built, of average height, sandy-haired, with ruddy complexion. He's got the kind of a face that tells you that he's seen a lot and he also does a lot. He talks quickly and honestly with his hint of a New England accent. He runs his hands through his hair when he's concentrating on a problem, and there's that note of enthusiasm and pride within him that makes his eyes twinkle when you mention Greenbelt's new ambulance.

A native of Camden, Me., where he started his volunteer work in 1939, Don (who is a printer professionally) has had almost 20 years' experience as a volunteer fireman and rescue worker. Camden, with a population of about 3500, is situated on the coast about 85 miles north of Portland. It was here, in this small town—where to be a volunteer fire worker was the chief recreation for the men in the town—that Don began his experience.

During World War II, Don, as a Petty Officer 1st Class, was assigned to a Navy Carrier, where he gained more experience in rescue work, though using different methods.

In 1953 Don and his family moved to Greenbelt. And one of the first things he did was to join the Rescue Squad. Since that time he has done much to improve himself in this work and to give to others what he himself already knows about it. As an instructor in First Aid, he has had many graduates from his classes and has just completed a 20-hour course in Fire Fighting at the University of Maryland. The manual used in this course is very complete. One could never imagine that there are so many involved and detailed items and ideas that go into the control of fire.

The hours spent in a First Aid Class, the time devoted to the reading and studying of manuals, and the thousands of minutes in experience are this man's tools. When the siren blares, Don might leave his Sunday breakfast or his quiet evening of TV to answer a call. Will it be an asthmatic with pneumonia, a would-be handy man about the house with a fractured leg, or a woman in labor without transportation? Maybe a child's finger caught in a pipe, or the "summer's" barefoot boy who swam too far. He doesn't know. It's important to this man that he can be there . . . that he is able to do his best to help . . . and that he is capable of serving his community in his way. There are no monetary compensations. There are no materialistic rewards. There is no one there to put an "A" on a report card for a job well done. But he goes. He goes with the rest of the volunteers, seeing that the asthmatic has oxygen if he needs it, that the handy man about the house is comfortable on his way to the hospital; he tries to get the woman there in time; he soothes a frightened child while putting oil in the pipe to loosen his finger; he administers artificial respiration or uses the resuscitator on the barefoot boy. He goes willingly to his volunteer work. And by his doing this, you and I and Mrs. Jones know that someone is there to help us when and if we need it. This is our proof we may rely on him in our time of anxiety.

To Don and the others in our community like him, my hat goes off.

Library Notes

By Elizabeth B. Hage

Did you know that Prince Georges County Memorial Library has a collection of more than 3,000 long playing albums available for home use?

You won't find juke box "hits" in the Library collection, but patrons have a wide choice of classical and semi-classical music, opera, folk music, jazz, musical shows, and dinner music.

The most frequent users of the collection are owners of new high fidelity equipment. And, strangely enough, a majority of the record users are men.

Opera-lovers may choose highlights from "Faust," "Carmen," "Aida," "Madam Butterfly," and other operas, while operetta is represented by "The Student Prince," and "The Merry Widow." Musical comedies, including "My Fair Lady" and "The King and I" can also be obtained.

Persons who like symphonies, string quartets, violin concertos, piano and organ music have a wide choice of composers: Bach, Haydn, Liszt, Beethoven, Tchaikovsky, Mendelssohn, Rimsky-Korsakov, Chopin, Debussy, and many others. For the Hi-fi enthusiast interested in religious music, there are highlights from Handels "Messiah," the full recording of Beethoven's "Missa Solemnis," and Berlioz' "Requiem."

The Library also has Christmas music, Negro spirituals, language records, children's records, and poetry readings. Albums are available at all branches, so why not treat yourself to a musical hour soon?

No Time for Sergeants

"No Time for Sergeants" will begin a limited engagement at the National Theatre on Monday, March 24. Philadelphia, Boston and Washington are the only cities in the east in which the national company of the comedy will be presented by producers Maurice Evans and Emmett Rogers.

Adapted by Ira Levin from MacHyman's best-selling novel, "No Time for Sergeants" deals with the hilarious events that follow the induction of a Georgia plowboy, Will Stockdale, into the Air Force. Amiable Will breaks all the rules, confuses his superiors, but always manages to come out victorious. Myron McCormick, who created the role of Sgt. King on Broadway, is again wearing his stripes with the national company on tour, and James Holden is the good-natured Will who sparks all the hilarity on stage. Other featured parts are played by Cliff Hall, Louis Beachner, Harry Holcombe, Roy Fant and Anthony Marcus.

Evening Performances start at 8:30 p.m. and the Wednesday and Saturday matinees begin at 2:30.
